

MES Family Update – December 16, 2020

MES Families,

Happy Wednesday! We are a day early with our Family Update email.

Based on current weather predictions, Snow Day tomorrow - Thursday, December 17th. After the storm departs, we will be in close communication with our amazing Marlborough Department of Public Works to evaluate road/school conditions.

As decided at the last Board of Education meeting, we will be observing Snow Days - and not turning the inclement weather days into Remote Learning days. We will reassess this decision if we get a winter season that leads to a significant number of school closures.

As we've mentioned, a Snow Day also cancels the day for those of our students and staff that are involved in Distance Learning. But as noted above, that is subject to change.

Virtual Story Time 6:30 p.m. tonight:

At 6:30 p.m. tonight, we will be holding a Virtual Story Time. Please join us for a few silly books. As always, we will be reading some together books as well. Please use the link below to join:

RHAM Inquiry Academy: Yesterday, representatives from the RHAM Inquiry Academy zoomed with our 6th graders - in-school and Distance Learners - sharing information about being on the Inquiry Team in 7th grade. Any interested 6th graders should complete the application that will be arriving in early January.

COVID-19 Testing Sites: Nurse Mecca has shared some information on upcoming COVID-19 testing sites for individuals of all ages. Click the link below to see a list of testing sites and directions on how to register on-line.

Toy Drive/Spirit Week: What a fun week it has been so far! From festive hats to so much flannel - our children and staff have been adorable! As of late this morning - we have collected over 130 toys that we will give to our troopers/officers next Monday. Thank you for the enormous generosity - what an amazing town Marlborough is.

Have a good night - looking forward to Virtual Story Time tonight at 6:30 p.m.
